

European Theatre and Film Institute Workshop

Developing Leadership Presence Through Theatre-Based Practice

This two-day workshop offers future managers a distinctive approach to leadership development through the methodology of theatre.

Participants will cultivate key skills such as deep focus, active listening, and clear communication - essential attributes in today's complex leadership environments.

Through structured physical, sensory, and improvisational exercises, attendees will strengthen their ability to collaborate, adapt, and lead with empathy.

The programme also introduces techniques for structured memorization and storytelling, enhancing clarity of thought and communication impact. Rooted in a rigorous, human-centred methodology, this workshop fosters presence, confidence, and meaningful connection - both within teams and across organisations.

Lead by renowned coach director and actor VLADIMIR BOUCHLER. Vladimir Bouchler worked as a coach with such giants of industry as Keanu Reeves, Emma Thompson, Annie Girardot, Erland Josephson and many others.
